Other Options: Charter and Private Schools

Transferring an IEP to a private or charter school can vary greatly by school, district and state.

A few key considerations include:

- Private, parochial schools are not included in the IDEA rights
- Texas public charter schools must follow the same regulations that public non-charter schools do

What if there are problems or delays?

- Consider an in-person conference with special education staff
- Set up a call between the previous and current schools
- Request an earlier ARD meeting
- Learn and use your state's procedural safeguard rights
